

PEOPLE

GOING GREEK

Napkins were flying, guests were dancing on tables and belly dancers worked the room as South Florida VIPs hosted My Big Fat Greek Party to kick off the new Bouzouki Night Fridays and Saturdays at Taverna Kyma. The event benefited Boca Helping Hands.

[1] Denise Alvarado, Crystal List, Nicole Flier and Lori Ludwig

[2] Greg Delz and Karen Murdoch

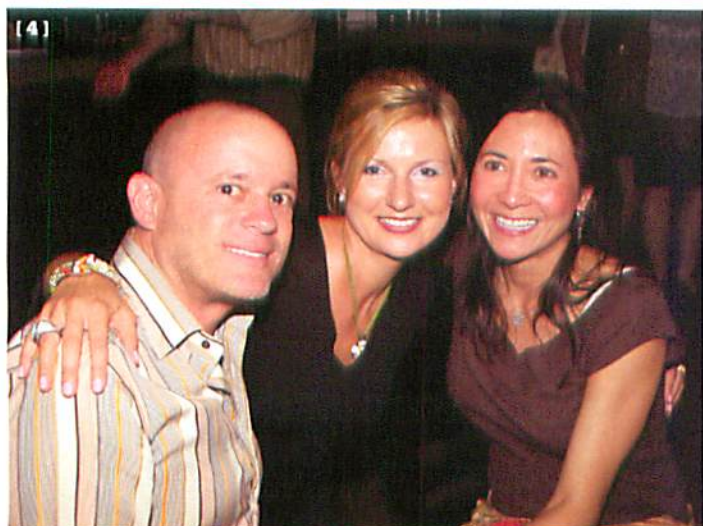

TWICE AS NICE

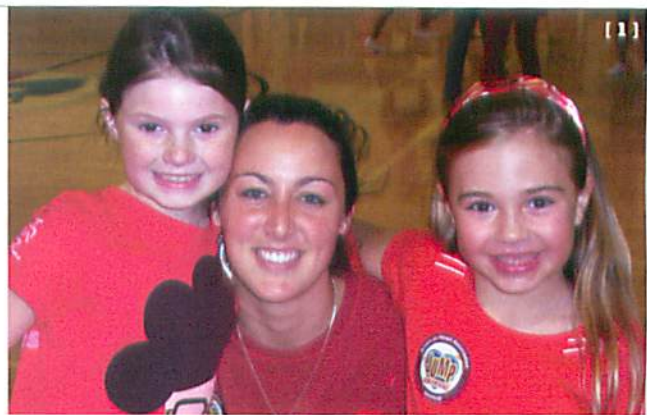

Celebrating its second anniversary, Coal Mine Pizza threw a party to remember. Guests entered on a red carpet; sipped Ferrari Champagne and Roberto Cavalli martinis; and sampled signature dishes, including "mini giant" meatballs, Reggiano Parmigiano with truffle honey and ricotta cheesecake. The live auction raised $5,000, which benefited Hospice by the Sea.

[3] Maria Ventrice, Videll Rack and Karen Bober

[4] Charles Greenwood, Neringa Umbrasaite and Amy Greenwood

[5] Suzette Obergfell and Sarah Levine

JUMPING HEARTS

Grandview Preparatory School's eighth annual Jump Rope for Heart fundraiser brought the school's total amount raised over the years to approximately $100,000. Jump Rope For Heart is a national educational fundraising program that benefits the American Heart Association and the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance.

[1] Breanna Oliver, Nikki Kridos and Erika Jakobson

[2] members of the first grade class at Grandview

GREAT LENGTHS

Bob Beamon set the Olympic long-jump record in 1968, and he continues to make a difference 40 years later. Beamon, Mike Cline and Meridian at One North Ocean hosted a Kentucky Derby fundraiser that raised nearly $10,000 for the Bob Beamon Organization for Youth. Guests viewed the race on big screens while playing billiards and Texas hold 'em.

[3] Tamara Hartman, Stacey Kravitz and Debora Hartman

[4] Rhonda and Bob Beamon, Melanee Knehr, Richard Vezina and Mike Cline

MARTINIS 'N' MOVIES

At Muvico Palace 20 in Boca Raton, guests of Palm Beach Media Associates celebrated the premiere of the "Sex and the City" movie in true Carrie Bradshaw fashion. Well-heeled attendees sipped Cosmopolitans and snacked at Bogart's Bar & Grille prior to a private viewing of the movie in a Premiere Level theater. Guests left with a swag bag of luxe gifts.

[5] Katie Douglas, Beth Hannum, Jessica de la Torre and Kristel Hosler

